CONFERENCE WILL BE CALLED TO-DAY.

Bishop Candler Will Preside at Methodist Meeting-Speculation Regarding Appointments.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Fredericktown, Mo., Sept. 17.-To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock Bishop Warren A Candler will call to order the fifty-seventh session of the St. Louis Conference of the Southern Methodist Church.

Up to the present time nothing has occurred save the examination of the young preachers' qualifications, and these were private, and no one will know the result until the reports of the various committee are made on the conference floor.

Last night the Reverend C. N. Clark of Sikeston preached, giving evidence that he is one of the rising young preachers of the conference. The preachers and delegates nearly all came in to-day. At least twentyfive appeared who had given no notice of their coming, and the committee has had to hunt up new homes. However, as fast as it was learned that there was a shortage of homes, plenty of offers to take other guests came in.

The Bishop looks much exhausted. He says he holds two conferences at a time in Missouri, for while one is in mession the others are trying to settle appointments by mail Broad Smile and Hearty Handshake. Doctor Early's smile is broad and his handshake is as hearty as if he knew himself to be the next Presiding Elder of the St. Louis District, and ex-Postmaster Carlisle seems as happy as if he had already been elected a delegate to the General Conference.

L. P. Norman of Alton seems to be gaining strength as the country delegate, though

L. P. Norman of Alton seems to be gaining strength as the country delegate, though a quiet canvass for J. C. Kirby of West Plains is being conducted by one of the shrewdest campaigners of the conference. All sorts of conjectures are being made in a quiet way about appointments, and since the arrival of the Bishop much uneasiness has become manifest. Many think they see evidences of a determination on his part to upset some of their plans.

The conference will be organized by the election of the Reverend M. T. Haw as secretary, with R. L. Russell assistant and Harry Whitehead statistical secretary, with C. Burton, W. A. Humphreys and W. H. Leprade assistants.

By the death of Doctor Finney a vacancy occurred on the Board of Curators for Central College. The filling of this vacancy is deemed a matter of such importance that the conference may ask Bishop Hendrix to take the place.

No trouble will occur at this session over school matters, unless the friends of the movement to transfer St. Charles College to this conference should seek to have their measure adopted. The feeling against it is very strong.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKS DEPOT. Caboose and Boxcar Plunge Through Building.

The Belleville City Depot of the Southern Raliroad at Belleville was wrecked by a wild freight train early yesterday morning. A caboose plunged through it and a freight office. Although Conductor Lemen, Brakeman Lamar and two stockmen were in the caboose none were seriously injured. Conductor Lemen was bruised about the head. The accident is similar to one which occurred at the same place about three years ago.

head. The accident is similar to one which occurred at the same place about three years ago.

The wrecked caboose and nine cars were detached from the westbound local for switching purposes. The cars were given a shove and started on the downgrade to the Belleville City Depot. The trainmen thought that the locomotive was still attached to the section and paid no attention to the speed until they reached the Richiand Creek trestle.

Then the trouble was quickly discovered, but it was too late to act. The men saw almost certain death before them and they closed their eyes and steeled their nerves. Then came the crash. The men were rendered unconscious and when they recovered they lay in a heap. All were bruised, but were not seriously hurt. Lemen's head was hadly bruised. The men clambered out of the side of the car onto Richband street. The caboose was not as badly damaged as the freight car, which stopped in the middle of the freight office.

The damage will amount to about $5.00. A wrecking crew was jut to work at once and by noon only the holes in the building were left to tell the tale of the wreck.

Board of Review Expected to Show Up Delinquent Taxpayers. Up Delinquent Taxpayers.

Some sensational developments are expected as the result of the sessions of the Board of Review at Belleville this week. An investigation of the books of the Assessors shows that 1.24 persons in Believille pay taxes on personal property, while there are only 1,022 persons in East St. Louis who pay personal taxes.

East St. Louis is twice as large in point of population as Believille, and it is expected by the Board of Review that there will be a corresponding increase in the list of personal-property assessments in East St. Louis. Avenues of information closed to the Assessor have been opened to the members of the Board of Review, and advantage will be taken of this information.

OBTAINED LICENSE, BUT NOT THE BRIDE.

C. F. Davis Disappointed at Failure of Mrs. Garde to Become His Wife.

Charles Francis Davis of Alton expected to be a benedict yesterday, but the prospective bride would not accede to his request and the wedding was indefinitely

Davis yesterday morning went to the office of Deputy Marriage Clerk A. Blerbaum in the Alton Savings Bank and procured a license to marry Mrs. Hannah Garde. He next visited the residence of the Reverend Father P. J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and requested the priest to perform the ceremony. As Davis had lived in the parish but a comparatively short time the Reverend Father O'Reilly refused to perform the ceremony without a dispensation. So Davis and Father O'Rellly appealed to the Right Reverend a dispensation. So Davis and Father O'Reilly appealed to the Right Reverend James Ryan, Bishop of Alton, and, after some explanation, the coveted dispensation was secured.

Highly elated over his success, Davis and the priest then sought the residence of Mrs. Garde, where the ceremony was to have taken place. Upon their arrival, however, instead of finding Mrs. Garde in her wedding gown, they found her much busied with her household duties.

Surprised at this, the Reverend Father O'Reilly explained the object of their visit, at which Mrs. Garde was greatly surprised. She refused to have the ceremony performed, and told the priest that, while Davis was an acquaintance, she never had an idea of marrying him. Davis explained to Father O'Reilly that he had been led to think that Mrs. Garde would become his bride, and that on the strength of that opinion had secured the license to wed.

A few more explanations and the priest and the would-be bridegroom took their departure. The license, however, was not returned to Clerk Bierbaum before the closing of his office yesterday. Mrs. Garde is the widow of James Garde.

EXCITING CHASE AFTER NEGROES Police Run Down Two Men Charged With Assault to Kill.

With Assault to Kill.

Chief of Police Herman C. Hauss, Sergeant Jim Cooney and Detective Jim Enright of the East St. Louis police force chased two miles after one nearo and a mile after another yesterday afternoon. Both were caught and are held on charges of assault with attempt to kill. It is expected that the victims of both the negroes will die.

The first chase was after Ben Rucker, who cut Edward Davis in the abdomen two days ago. Chief Hauss, Sergeant Cooney and Detective Enright started after him, and Rucker caught sight of the officers and ran. They pursued him through the Mobile and Ohio Railroad yards between and under trains of freight and passenger cars and finally captured him in the willows near the river. Davis is in a critical condition.

The second chase was after Josiah Ever-near the river. Davis is in a critical condition.

The second chase was after Josiah Everson, who shot Joe Edwards in the course of a quarrel, which grew out of a craps game in Rush City yesterday afternoon. Everson's friends say that Edwards frew a razor when Everson shot him. Edwards was taken to St. Mary's Hospital. Chief Hauss, Sergeant Cooney and Detective Enright had just returned from the chase after Rucker, but started after Everson.

When discovered he dashed in and out of the houses of the residents of Rush City, over fences, through yards and fields and was finally run down on the other side of Cahokia road after a chase of over two miles. Edwards, it was said last night, cannot live.
